Metabolomics is the scientific study of chemical processes involving metabolites, the small molecule intermediates and products of metabolism. Specifically, metabolomics is the "systematic study of the unique chemical fingerprints that specific cellular processes leave behind", the study of their small-molecule metabolite profiles. The metabolome represents the complete set of metabolites in a ...

The development of robust and selective methods for the selective N-monomethylation of primary anilines would greatly simplify the synthesis of N-methylanilines and several approaches have been reported. On the industrial scale, N-monomethylation of primary anilines is accomplished via reaction with methanol in the vapor phase using heterogeneous transition metal catalysts at high temperatures ...

A rheometrical procedure may be used to clearly distinguish and characterize the solid and liquid regimes. It consists in a series of creep tests, i.e., the deformation is monitored over time for a constant applied stress, and for different stress levels (using a new sample of the same material for each value).

Novel nitrene insertion. An intramolecular insertion reaction of Rh⁺-nitrene into amide C⁺-N and sulfonamide S⁺-N bonds has been developed (see figure) via the unprecedented formation of an N + ⁺N⁺ ylide from the Rh⁺-nitrene and the amide nitrogen. Experimental and theoretical analyses of the reaction mechanism have also been conducted and support the ylide pathway.
