HLA-DO and Its Role in MHC Class II Antigen Presentation

The human leukocyte antigen (HLA) and MHC Class II genes play key roles in connecting innate and adaptive immunity. Many distinct routes of cross-presentation have been described for Class II, but classical understanding of exogenous antigen presentation has largely remained unchanged.

Genes in this complex are categorized into three basic groups: class I, class II, and class III. Humans have three main MHC class I genes, known as HLA-A , HLA-B , and HLA-C . The proteins produced from these genes are present on the surface of almost all cells.
